STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 1.—The inauguration ceremony of John Casper Branner as president of the university today was one of the largest audiences ever seen in the history of the institution.

Branner in his address gathered to welcome him with an enthusiastic reception. He would endeavor to keep the progress made by his predecessor in the past year.

At the afternoon the new president was welcomed by the board of trustees. He was then entertained by the women of the university.

At the morning's procession the march was preceded by the senior women in white. They were followed by the faculty members, the Academic Council, the board, the trustees, the president of the university and the president of the board.

JOHN CASPER BRANNER, INAUGURATED TODAY PRESIDENT OF STANFORD UNIVERSITY.

DEBATES ARE MADE.

At the inauguration ceremony, the new president, John Casper Branner, was welcomed by the board of trustees. He was then entertained by the women of the university.

INTENTION OF FOUNDERS.

In the founding grant Mr. and Mrs. Stanford stated in so many words that it was their purpose to found a university of high degree.

The university has now been open twenty-two years. In that period we have conferred 4,000 bachelors' degrees and 565 advanced degrees.

And when we look over the total—the thousands of fine young people who have been educated here, the present faculty, the material equipment in the forms of buildings, and when we contemplate the university's financial condition, and when we glance back over the difficulties that lie well behind us, the difficulties of starting the university and getting it through the second summer of its childhood, and the growing pains of its youth, we have just reason to be contented with the results and to take courage for the future.

Having been promoted from the ranks of the faculty of our own university, I take it upon myself to mention some of the hopes of the faculty that cannot well be sent in to you in the form of requisitions. They are hopes that are in the air, and they are in our hearts and in our lives.

THE BEAUTY OF OUR SURROUNDINGS IS AN educational asset which some of us are slow to appreciate at its full value.

When this group of buildings was first put up it was unique and justly excited world-wide admiration. In this country it was a revelation. Meanwhile the matter of the grounds has been greatly diminished by the bare, sun-baked courts and the general shabbiness that probably seemed too unimportant to be taken seriously. A few years ago a visitor to these grounds was heard to remark, entirely without feeling, that he had never seen an institution where there were so many evidences of poverty.

I am delighted to say that the trustees now have in mind the improvement for these conditions.

The question often arises in my own mind whether or not our buildings can be made more attractive within.

We have in the museum thousands of beautiful works of art, and our students have no particular desire to give you, I had, it would probably surprise you, and shock the faculty, for I should tell you not to study too much. It is not my idea that a student should work so hard here that he will be unable to do any work hereafter. Such things do happen, you know. And it is an open secret that more trouble comes of students trying to do too much work than of their trying to do too little.

At the same time you are not to get the idea that I approve of any sort of laxity either in your studies or in your conduct. I would have you feel that you are here in the process of entering upon the privilege of manhood and womanhood.

Finally, it is for every one of us, for every member of the university community, trustees, faculty, alumni, and students, each in his own way, and to the extent of his power, to do good cheer, and to stand fast and firm in his moral support of the faculty in their efforts to make and keep Stanford University what its founders meant it to be—a university of high degree.

TO THE FACULTY.

To my colleagues of the faculty: My friends, I take up the duties of this office with a strong sense of my own shortcomings, with a profound feeling of personal gratitude to you for the cordial support you have given me as your president.

I would have every one of you feel that I am here to serve you in every way in my power, and in everything that pertains to your work as instructors in this university, and as scholars interested in your own lines of research.

We may differ occasionally about the methods by which a given end is to be reached, but I am sure that our purposes are absolutely identical.

I believe in the reasonableness of most things as they are, and as I take no pleasure in sensations, you are likely to find me a rather unemotional university president.

You will observe that I have stipulated that I am to retire at the end of two years. Within those two years let us see to it that we do all the human effort that we can to make Stanford University known for sane, sound and productive scholarship.

THE ALUMNI.

Ladies and gentlemen of the alumni: you have been told in one way or another that you are the living output—the flesh and blood and bone of the university. In a sense your lives and our lives are one. We live in you; as you become men and women of importance in the world, we become a university of importance.

The alumni are already acquainted with our needs, and when they want to help us they know where to find us.

The thing we want of them above all things is their respect, their affection, their loyalty and their sympathy. And of these we are already assured.

TO THE STUDENTS.

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Student Body:

Your new president has no new experiments that he wants to try out on you, unless it be an experiment to treat you, every one of you, like the men and women that you are.

I have no particular advice to give you. If I had, it would probably surprise you, and shock the faculty, for I should tell you not to study too much. It is not my idea that a student should work so hard here that he will be unable to do any work hereafter. Such things do happen, you know. And it is an open secret that more trouble comes of students trying to do too much work than of their trying to do too little.

At the same time you are not to get the idea that I approve of any sort of laxity either in your studies or in your conduct. I would have you feel that you are here in the process of entering upon the privilege of manhood and womanhood.

Finally, it is for every one of us, for every member of the university community, trustees, faculty, alumni, and students, each in his own way, and to the extent of his power, to do good cheer, and to stand fast and firm in his moral support of the faculty in their efforts to make and keep Stanford University what its founders meant it to be—a university of high degree.

issued, the company sent its men to blockade the tracks. The papers giving the Southern Pacific the right of way have not yet been signed, and the Havenscourt owners declare that the tracks are running without right of way, and are subject only to the consent of its owners.

Early this morning, when the blockade was placed, Walter Leimert, H. A. Laffler and other officials of the Havenscourt, with Dennis Moore, foreman for Borland, Bates & Ayer, took charge of the work. Roadmaster of the Southern Pacific.

section hands. No fighting took place save a couple of fist fights caused when opposing workmen hurled epithets at each other. Policemen Con Keefe and Crossman rushed to the scene from the Melrose police station and quieted these without trouble.

"This thing is friendly enough," said Corrigan, "but we intend to run three trains a day to keep our franchise, as we are ordered to. That's all we can do. The legal end must be fought elsewhere."

WILL ASK AID.

"This is simply a fight against an exorbitant rate of fare," declared Leimert. "Wickham Havens, Inc., was promised a certain rate of fare. The company has not kept the agreement, but has resorted to bull-dozing tactics which we, and the people of Havenscourt, are not going to stand for. We are within our rights. We shall keep this blockade here and shall at once appeal to the railroad commission for aid in our fight."

"I don't know anything about the legal end of this," said R. H. Perrin, railroad engineer, who appeared on the ground a few moments ago. "I know the law, but I don't know the facts. That's all."

There are several legal obstacles which must be threshed out by each side according to the railroad men. They claim that an appeal to the state railroad commission would be useless as the line is located within the city of Oakland. The Wickham Havens attorneys hold that as the line takes passengers to San Francisco it is interurban, and that therefore the commission has power to act. The company maintains that a fare from San Francisco takes the passenger to Oakland, that is, to Melrose, and beyond that it is carrying them from one point within Oakland to another.

"I suppose we will have a battle of injunction," said Leimert. "And will have a long drawn fight. We intend to fight until the company fulfills its obligations. The company has always attempted rule by might. Its engine may crush its way over our barricades, but it cannot crush us. We propose to fight because it is the people's fight and the people are behind us. Advice in Havenscourt will tell you that. There should be one fare in Oakland. We are fighting for a principle—or, rather, for our right."

The last charge on the blockade badly damaged the steel electric car forced over it by the engine. The men had piled first a high line of wood ties, which they held in position until the engine beat them down. Behind this they had piled gravel and stones, and the opposing workmen, operating slower, only succeeded in removing a portion of this barricade. The engine, shoving the cars before it, came on at a fair rate of speed, striking the barricade with a rending crash, and scattering gravel, splinters and stones as it tore its way through.

GATES SHATTERED.

The gates of the car were shattered and the stems broken by the impact. It cut through the obstruction as a butter-knife through butter, and Roadmaster Corrigan, with a shout, called his men out.

"We're through boys," he declared. "It's the third train."

The Havenscourt men kept on with their work. The blockade was not removed. The Southern Pacific forces no longer worked removing the barricade the men put on. They retired to the Havenscourt station where they applied to headquarters for orders.

"We will not carry passengers," said Corrigan. "All we sought to do was to run three trains. To carry passengers now would be dangerous."

ASSUMES CONTROL.

Walter Leimert assumed personal charge of the men. Here and there he hurried, examining every detail of the work, giving orders, making suggestions, and directing the task of obstruction. As the last train approached he stood beside the men holding the barricade, and warned them as the engine drew near. "Back up, boys," he said. "Don't get hurt." The men, however, clung to the ties until the crash came.

The first barricade charged by the engine was comparatively light. The Southern Pacific men having removed large portions of it. The men had in the mean time piled a high barricade on the other track, but the railroad did not seek to use this, preferring to center its attention on one. The engine backed away, toward San Leandro, while the men piled shovels again, and in a few moments charged the second barrier. This one was slightly heavier, and stones flew as the wheels struck it. The third was the heaviest.

As the engine worked side by side, one piling stones which the other removed, all feeling determined. Ugly words were passed, and in several cases, fistfights.

"Don't strike first, boys," warned Leimert, "unless you have to."

"What if a man calls me a son of a bitch?" asked a Southern Pacific laborer. "Soak him!" said the foreman.

"There'll be no soaking here," declared Policeman Keefe, pushing himself into the ring. "If there is there'll be some pinching, too. We'll have no trouble here."

The Wickham Havens forces kept a guard of men on the last barrier, after the third car had been shoved across. They declared that they would keep a barrier up until the train from the west came.

Corrigan declared that the blockade on the other side. We will not try to take passengers across until this is settled," he declared. "All we have to do is keep the franchise until the matter is finally decided."

CALVIN'S STATEMENT.

By E. E. Calvin, vice-president in charge of operation and construction, Southern Pacific railroad:

"We have entered into no agreements with the property owners in this matter, as well as the franchise requirements. I understand that this action was taken for the reason that some of the real estate people are not satisfied with the proposed rate of fare. It is not our purpose to engage in any sensational controversy on this matter and we shall depend upon the protection afforded under the law."

Board of managers was very anxious to identify, was attached to a letter asking Harris and Fuller, New York brokers to close the governor's accounts to Lieutenant Commander Joseph H. It was signed "Wm. Sulzer, for Mrs. Sulzer." Melville B. Fuller, testifying yesterday regarding this account, said that it represented a loan made to the governor, who had said the money went to pay obligations incurred by Mrs. Sulzer at the Carnegie Trust Company of New York, now defunct.

CROSS-ENTRY IN DISPUTE.

The entry made in the governor's Harris and Fuller account dated December 30, 1912, the day before his inauguration, also was in dispute. Counsel for the board of impeachment managers intimated that the entry was made later than this date. It made his debt for securities appear as a loan.

At the opening of the morning session Melville B. Fuller of the brokerage firm of Harris and Fuller made a personal statement to the court. Referring to headlines in papers relative to his testimony yesterday he said that he and his firm had been misrepresented.

"The books of my firm are absolutely correct," he said. "No balances were forced. No items were omitted, or concealed in order to protect Sulzer or any one else."

Most of the morning session was devoted to an effort by the managers to show how and why Governor Sulzer rewarded his campaign Secretary Louis A. Sarecky by procuring him a $4000 job in the state immigration service. They endeavored to establish their point by reading excerpts from the proceedings of the Sarecky investigation committee before whom Sarecky refused to testify. Counsel for the governor objected to this line of evidence.

Presiding Judge Cullen then ruled that Mr. Standfield, in reading the Sarecky testimony must confine himself to the parts in which Sarecky refused to answer questions concerning the campaign contributions.

One of the boys is Daniel Dewey Brandt, 15 years of age, who was reported missing by his mother, Mrs. Marie Brandt, 2341 East Sixteenth street, today. The boy left Monday, taking his own gun and is believed to have met a boy companion to start on their wanderings. The boy is 5 feet 5 inches in height, with dark hair and blue eyes.

Mrs. G. Miller, 710 East Sixteenth, was reported missing by her husband today and the police have been asked to search for her. She left home yesterday and failed to return. Mrs. Miller is 54 years of age, 4 feet three inches in height, weighed 117 pounds and had gray hair and blue eyes. When last seen she wore a black dress and a hat decorated with purple flowers.

Abandoning a wife and two months old baby in destitute circumstances, William Thrift is reported to have left his home, 1446 Sixty-third street, Emeryville, by his wife, Mrs. Flora Thrift.

MAYOR PROTESTS SALE OF EXPOSITION BONDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Mayor Rolph formally protested today against the sale by the Panama-Pacific Exposition company of $2,000,000 in Exposition bonds at 87. It is claimed by the finance committee of the supervisors that the Exposition company agreed to hold the bonds, which are at 5 per cent, for one year.

FIRE IN HILLS NEAR THE HEIGHTS

Volunteers Battle for Hours to Save Homes in the District.

North breeze fanned the smoldering flames into action, and daylight revealed danger in a dozen places. Suddenly the flames veered in the direction of the Salvation Army's Home for Women and Children, and it was seen that the wooden buildings were in danger.

MANY VOLUNTEERS.

Members of the Melrose police and fire departments and over a hundred volunteer fire fighters answered the call from this direction, but before they arrived the flames had already descended upon the institution.

Led by the matron and attendants, frail women and young girls rushed to the defense of their imperiled home.

Bucket brigades were hastily organized and water buckets and garden implements pressed into service. The women showed splendid nerve and courage, and it was only through their brave efforts that the home was saved.

Fire Warden Short and Battalion Chief McGraw arrived on the scene from Oakland in automobiles in time to direct the work of the fire fighters. Officers of the Melrose police, including Officer Keeffe and Officer Crossman, also lent their aid in saving the Beulah Home. There are a number of invalids and helpless children in the home and preparations were made in the event of the fire becoming more threatening to have them removed to a place of safety. This, however, was found unnecessary.

The burned ground and shrubbery close around the home showed how near the building came to destruction.

THE LEONA FIRE.

The Leona fire broke out about the same time this morning. Here a fire started in a grove of oak trees, and fanned by the wind and flames spread to the woods in the direction of the Washburn quarry. Superintendent Washburn and his men have been up all night heading off a fire which broke out about 1 o'clock this morning.

They succeeded in getting out the flames when a grass fire called their attention. In the way of the flames was a powder magazine containing four tons of powder. Washburn had this removed before the fire could reach the spot.

RESIDENCE IN DANGER.

The only residence in danger was that of C. J. Carey, which was situated perilously close to the fire. The efforts of the fire fighters, however, kept the flames from spreading in that direction. Although the fire is still burning the fire department thinks the men have it under control. Three companies of the fire department, along with a large gang of men, are watching the place in readiness to beat out the fire should it show signs of spreading.

Fire in Temescal District Is Out

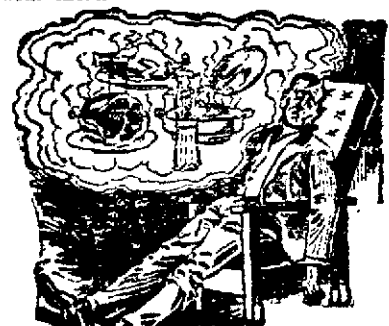

Over 50 acres of brush, fences and some small sheds were burned in a fire last evening which called out the Oakland Fire Department as well as crews from the Oakland and Antioch Railway and from the Peoples Water Company. The fire occurred in the watershed of the Peoples Water Company. The fire occurred in the watershed of the Peoples Water Company. The fire occurred in the watershed of the Peoples Water Company.

THE DYSPETIC'S DREAM IS A GOOD MEAL

And He Could Most Completely Enjoy It If He Ate a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After It.

One of the greatest horrors to dyspeptic sufferers is the fear of food consequences. They know from past experiences that meats, vegetables and fluids will not agree with them. The stomach tells them so and thus after awhile they actually fear to eat their food.

But often in their dreams they experience the joys of eating a hearty soup-tomato meal of the good old fashioned kind. When they awake the old fear is still with them.

"He could eat a meal like that if he took a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet."

Of course the fear of food is natural. It arises from an abused and diseased stomach, but the moment you put into the stomach along with the food you eat the dyspepsia element that will digest the meal without fear or ill effects, then you lose your fear of food.

Such elements are contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and they are so powerful that they go through the natural way of themselves, when placed in a glass tube with a mixed food, they will actually digest it.

More than the mere act of digesting the meal eaten, they go into the blood and thus enrich all the digestive machinery of man so that when the next meal is eaten the fluids are stronger and more capable of doing their work.

A little Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet taken after each meal will quickly restore the dyspeptic's digestion so he can enjoy the most of his dreams in reality.

LIQUOR MEASURE TO BE ARGUED

Both Sides of Question Will Be Heard by Council Tomorrow.

Intox were introduced and carried by a large assemblage of citizens in attendance. Whereas, Certain reformers, some of whom are not residents of this city, have prevailed upon the Oakland city council to consider the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor in this city from continuing in business; and

Whereas, They also contemplate the raising of the saloon license to the sum of $1000 per year; and

Whereas, The Royal Arch of will compensate the owners of saloons who are driven out of business as result of the passage of this ordinance; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Central Labor Council of Alameda county in regular meeting assembled on the 29th day of September, 1931, emphatically protests against the passage of this ordinance and its amendments for the following reasons:

First—The closing of 198 saloons will throw out of employment approximately 1100 well-paid members of our different unions.

Second—If the number of saloons are allowed to remain as at present and their license raised to $1000 per year it will cost the same as arbitrary closing of 50 per cent of the saloons now doing business.

Third—The contemplated amendments of the Royal Arch compensation saloonkeepers only and will not in any way compensate their employees who will be thrown out of employment; and be it further

Resolved, That if the city council passes this ordinance that organized labor institute the initiative and referendum in the shape of a special election to secure a full expression of opinion from the people, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the press and the city council of Oakland. Respectfully submitted, WILLIAM A. SPOONER, Secretary.

TRANSFER LICENSE.

The saloon license held by Joseph Ferrari for the Maison de l'Opera in Fourteenth street to be transferred to Mario Pozzi for a location at 1234 Telegraph avenue. The Maison de l'Opera was abandoned because this cafe was one of those under fire by the chief of police. The council decided some weeks ago to grant no further transfers until the saloon matter was settled by the passage of the new ordinance, but made an exception in this instance.

Spain Also Hard Hit; Rain Ruins Crops and Roads.

CERBERE, France, Oct. 1.—A terrible thunderstorm which raged for twelve hours has spread death and ruin throughout this city. Fourteen persons are known to have been killed and thirty injured and there are many missing.

Tons of bread to meet the pressing needs of the inhabitants have been sent, and a company of infantry was rushed from Collioure to aid rescue.

Negro Euspect Askew Practically Cleared of Science Healer's Death.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Robert Askew stands today practically cleared of any charges in connection with the murder of Mrs. Rebecca P. Gay, Christian Science practitioner. The negro probably will be released in a few days after he serves a term for drunkenness.

All circumstantial evidence against him disappeared when persons who had seen the mysterious negro who lettered around the woman's office, declared Askew was not the man. The police investigation has turned to finding the unidentified negro, and into other angles of the case.

A mysterious "Mrs. Wallace" continues to be sought. It was her name which visits to Mrs. Gay's and neighboring offices. A certain Mrs. Wallace known Mrs. Gay disappeared mysteriously on the morning after the murder, it was made known today.

Patrolmen Libbey was sent to protect the two women. He knocked on the front door and was greeted by Noyes, armed with a large hammer, ready to enforce his demands on his family. Libbey placed Noyes under arrest on a charge of battery. The police are investigating.

Bixby's Relative Refuses Nomination

LONG BEACH, Cal., Oct. 1.—Miss Fannie Bixby, sister to George H. Bixby, the millionaire who was acquitted Monday night by a jury at Los Angeles of a charge of having contributed to the delinquency of a young girl, declined today to accept the socialist nomination for mayor of Long Beach.

Miss Bixby was nominated at a socialist convention last night and the nomination was formally tendered her today. Her reason for declining, she said, was that she expected to be away from Long Beach for several months during the coming year.

Girl Accuses Man of Revolting Cruelty

LONG BEACH, Oct. 1.—Perry Curwright was arrested here today on a charge of having forced Alberta Davidson, a 10-year-old colored girl, to confess a theft of $8 by strapping her wrists to rafters so that she was compelled to stand on her feet.

The girl's screams attracted the attention of the police, who found her in an exhausted condition in a shed where Curwright is said to have inflicted the cruelty.

GRANTED DIVORCE FROM HUSBAND AT AGE OF 60

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Margaret S. Murphy, a gray-haired matron of 60, pleaded for a divorce in Superior Judge Van Nostrand's court today and told a pathetic tale of an effort on the part of her husband to obtain her little savings.

"We were married in 1909," she explained. "My husband tried to get my money but would not give it to him. He part of the Pacific dramatic factory and caused tremendous damage through the department. The railroad has been washed out and a passenger train is imprisoned in the tunnel at Banyuls-Sur-Mer."

"He received her decree."

STREETS FLOODED BY BIG STORMS

Downpour in New York Interferes With Operation of Subway Trains.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Heavy downpours of rain hitting for hours flooded New York this afternoon practically closed the streets of traffic, interfered with the operation of elevated trains tied up the subway so that not a wheel turned between Grand Central Station and 72d street and threatened a record slump of transportation at the rush hour tonight.

Two and one-half inches rain fell between 1 and 2:30 o'clock. At 4 o'clock nearly 4 and one-half inches had fallen and it was still coming down steadily. Some streets in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn were three feet under water.

In two factories 1500 girls were marooned by a torrent three feet deep on every side and the police were summoned to help them out of the buildings. During the storm lightning played infernally over the city. A number of trees were knocked by thunderbolts but the heavy rains extinguished them with little loss.

ARREST FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE

John C. Henning, Who Sued C. S. Funk, of Harvester Co., Captured.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 1.—John C. Henning of Chicago was arrested here today and is held as a fugitive from justice. Henning sued Clarence S. Funk, then general manager of the International Harvester Company for $50,000 damages for alleged alienation of the affections of Mrs. Henning, a jury in Chicago found for Funk, June 3, 1912, and he swore out a warrant charging Henning with perjury. Today's arraignment of Henning's whereabouts was the first since then. Meanwhile Henning's attorney, Daniel Donohue, and two of his witnesses were indicted in Chicago on charges of conspiracy to defame Funk's character. It is claimed by Funk that Henning's suit was inspired in revenge for the former's testimony adverse to Senator Lorimer before the Senate investigating committee.

RETURN OF HUSBAND'S MONEY

Mrs. Mary A. Cook Says That Estate Was Claimed by State.

Went Under Two Names and Left No Will as Far as Known.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—Having lost sight of her husband, Thomas Cook, when he went to the gold fields of Alaska in June, 1899, after having lived with her only four months after their marriage in Oakland, Mrs. Mary A. Cook to enter suit for the death of George Hite Cook at Fabiola Hospital in Oakland in 1908.

Mrs. Cook asserts that the George Hite Cook who died at the hospital and her husband, Thomas Cook, were one and the same person. A picture of George Hite Cook taken after his death was produced in court yesterday as an exhibit. Depositions of persons who knew Thomas Cook to the effect that George Hite Cook resembled strongly Thomas Cook were taken.

Mrs. Cook testified that she married Cook after nursing him while ill at the Eureka Hotel at Oakland. She said that they lived together four months and that Cook left her to return to the gold fields of Alaska where he had formerly been a miner. Since that time she had not heard of him until she learned of the death of George Hite Cook and on investigation believed him to be her husband.

George Hite Cook left an estate valued at about $12,000, $900 being on deposit in a bank in Paso Robles. About $900 went to the state, when diligent search had failed to disclose a will or heirs.

CROPS OF STATE, CONDITION GOOD

While Shortages Exist Prices Make Up for Loss.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—Alfalfa, fig, olive and walnut crops were the only crops normal or above last year's crop in California, according to figures announced today at the office of the state horticultural commission. Estimates were made from returns submitted by county horticulturists.

The apricot crop in some sections was estimated poor but in other counties it was about normal so that the general average will make this year's crop about 80 per cent as large as last year's. The grape output, including raisins, wine and table grapes, was approximately 80 per cent of normal, while the peach crop is within 10 per cent as large as that of 1912. Plums and cherries did not come up to last year by about 10 per cent, although in some sections a figure above normal is recorded. The prune product is 75 per cent of normal, while predictions for apples, the crop not yet having been harvested, are optimistic.

Early estimates the citrus fruit crop will range within 20 per cent of normal. Despite the shortage in practically all the deciduous fruit crops, the returns were equal to last year, growers reporting better prices for their products.

The drought throughout the state interfered with hay and grain crops, cutting them down to 80 per cent of normal.

Coupled with the scarcity of water, brought about the damage to horticultural growth.

"On the whole," a supplementary statement says, "the financial returns from deciduous horticultural crops this year will not be below last year, despite the unfavorable weather experienced."

PORTOLA TO GIVE CANDIDATES' BALL

Novel Feature of Tour Contest Will Make Final Count Exciting.

One of the most novel features of the Portola tour contest will be the candidates' ball, to be given tomorrow evening at the Auditorium, which will be beautifully decorated for the occasion, and where at midnight there will be made the last count prior to closing the race next Monday night. Tickets were placed on sale this morning, and it is expected that a sufficient number will be sold to insure a capacity attendance.

Managers of the candidates were each given large blocks of admissions, and each ticket sold will count 100 votes for the candidate of the seller's choice. These and other votes will be posted during the evening, which promises to be an exciting one for all those interested. Many novelties will be introduced in the course of the evening.

Today the Portola tour candidates are inspecting the electrical floats in the yards at Thirteenth avenue and Irving street.

San Jose will honor Miss Lizette Krause next Friday, when a big committee of business men will enter into the campaign of vote getting. Girl conductors will buy votes with fares taken on the street car lines and theaters will contribute half their receipts, while a large sum is certain to be realized through a public benefit drive.

Many of the San Francisco candidates, accompanied by Portola boosters, will go to San Jose for the day.

John McLaren, superintendent of Golden Gate Park has begun his Portola decorations. The visitors to San Francisco, and the natives as well, are going to see one of the most elaborate flower pictures ever evolved in a park.

On the terrace slope of the sunken garden in front of the conservatory there will be shown in flowers the herald with his bugle, who has been something of a trade mark for the Portola since the plans were first taken up. A special force of men has been put to work preparing for this, and within a couple of weeks the plans will have reached such a stage that the results will be worth a special trip to see, according to McLaren.

CIVIL SERVICE SYSTEM FOR ROADS ADVOCATED

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—"Every advocate of good roads should be an advocate of the merit system as the vital means to that end," declared John T. Doyle, secretary of the United States Civil Service Commission, in an address before the American Road Congress here yesterday afternoon.

Very few of the hundred thousand or more state and county road officials under existing legislation have any knowledge of road construction or maintenance, he said.

"It is estimated that more than $150,000,000 a year is being expended for the construction and upkeep of our public roads," continued Doyle. "It, therefore, becomes an important economical essential that this great outlay be expended under trained, capable and honest supervision."

GOLD LEDGE DISCOVERED IN PORTLAND, ORE., PARK

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1.—Returns from the local assay office yesterday of samples of ore taken from a ledge uncovered in Interlark drive in the Mount Tabor Park by T. Tanna, a park employee, two weeks ago, reveals values in free milling gold of $1082.62 a ton.

Anticipating a rush of prospectors to this district, city officials have ceased looking on the find as a joke and today are taking steps to make a real assay. Commissioner Brewster of the Department of Parks, directed City Attorney Laroche to proceed immediately to protect the rights of the city in the park so that prospectors and speculators may be excluded. In all probability the city will be forced in the end to make an assay, and if the property is a mining claim, to protect its rights.

Slit Skirts Not for Teachers, Is Edict of Normal School

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—

"Student teachers may not wear Balkan blouses, nor muddy blouses, nor slit skirts. Skirts must reach below the ankles and sleeves reach the elbows. No diaphanous skirts, waists or extra cut waists shall be worn."

The edict was posted today on the bulletin board of the San Francisco normal school. It explains why three student teachers are now just plain students.

The three wore slit skirts. The student body disapproved. So did principal Burke. A conference followed. Given the choice of what skirts they pleased or their positions, the three took the former.

WILD HORSES IN CHARIOT RACES

Starting Feature to Be Seen in Big Rodeo on Next Saturday.

A wild horse chariot race is one of the novelties promised by Rodeo Boss Frank J. Griffin for the coming roundup which is to be opened next Saturday afternoon at the Emeryville race track.

This particular feature will be the nearest approach to a circus act which the rodeo will offer, but it differs in one essential respect. That is in place of the ordinarily trained animals used by the circus, the rodeo daredevils will employ untrained and wild animals.

The horses, some of whom have ever known the feel of rope or halter, will be driven in front of the grandstand and there roped. Then the harness will be fixed and the animals attached to the chariot. After that the drivers will leap into the chariots, and the race will start.

The men are to cover the quarter mile course but a great deal will depend upon the attitude of the horses. The brutes may elect to run or they may elect to kick and buck. The wild horse chariot race is a thrilling and far more dangerous than the organizers of the Roman pastime ever dreamed it would become.

In addition, Rodeo Boss Griffin announced today that one of the greatest "bullfighters" in the range, Ed Bordeu, has agreed to appear. Bordeu is an expert at throwing a steer by grasping the horn and the foreleg. Frequently the animal gets the better of the man and must be called to keep the cowboy from being gored.

These special features will supplement the regular program of fancy riding, roping, broncho busting, and steer riding. Several carloads of wild horses that have been gathered up in the rugged Sierras will be shown in the corral at Emeryville tomorrow. Griffin says that he has been exceptionally fortunate in gathering a bunch of "bad" horses and some great riding is promised.

COURT BUILDING GIVEN APPROVAL

Oakland Church Federation Endorses Proposed Structure for Home.

The request of the probation committee for a juvenile court building to accommodate the detention home, probation office and juvenile court was heartily endorsed by the Oakland Church Federation at a meeting last night at the local Y. M. C. A. building. The structure and land would cost $50,000, according to the committee.

A woman physician for girls is also sought for in the request. The present detention home is pointed as being wholly inadequate.

Dr. Charles S. McFarland, secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, representing thirty-four denominations, will address a mass meeting of churches in Oakland on October 19. Dr. George W. White, president of the Oakland Church Federation, who presided at the meeting, announced the date at the written request of Edwin P. Ryland, who urged that the local federation arrange for the appearance of the well known churchman in Oakland.

The suggestions of the Public Welfare League for changes in the proposed juvenile ordinance submitted to the city commissioners, yesterday by Arthur Arlett, president of the league, were endorsed by the federation.

In an address in which he deplored the growing spirit of absence from Sunday services at the churches and suggested the remedy of house to house visitation for evangelical purposes, Dr. George E. Burlingame, pastor of the First Baptist church of San Francisco, appeared by special invitation of Dr. White.

Shall the People Rule?

Dr. Carl Walker—whoever he may be—appeared before the Supervisors and protested against a water district election being called till the law is amended. He is in favor of forming a water district if he can get the law altered to his satisfaction. In the meantime he claims the privilege of preventing the community from taking any action. He does not want the voters to be given a chance to say what they wish to do. He asks the Supervisors to deny the voters of this urban district of the first right of free-men.

Suppose the Supervisors should accede to his remarkable demand and refuse to call an election till after another session of the Legislature is held, and the law is not amended to suit Dr. Walker, is action to be again postponed till the Legislature will consent to amend the law in accordance with the notions of people?

If the people do not wish to form a water district under the present law, or any law, they can vote the proposition down. The notion that the entire community shall be denied the right to act because a few individuals are dissatisfied with the statute is monstrous. It strikes at the basic principle of popular government. It assumes that office-holders should usurp the power to prevent the people from doing what they want to do and which the law empowers them to do at the bidding of a minority who contend that the hands of the community shall be tied till they give the word for release.

They might as well demand that no bond elections be called till the law governing bond issues is amended to fit their ideas. They claim the right to bar the free action of the people because they apprehend such action will not accord with their views. They place their idiosyncrasies above the rights of the electorate, above the letter of the law and above the principle which prevails in all governments of the people that the majority shall rule.

Progressive Slump in New Jersey.

Not at all promising for the Progressive party are the returns from the New Jersey primary election. Last November Roosevelt led Taft in the State. In the vote the other day the Progressives came third, although there was a hot contest for the gubernatorial nomination. The anti-Roosevelt candidate won, but the total vote cast by the Progressives was so small as to leave no chance for even the most optimistic to believe there is a probability of electing the Progressive ticket this fall.

The vote cast by all parties was light, the Democrats polling within a fraction of as many votes as were cast by the Republicans and Progressives combined, but the split in the opposition leaves the Republicans far in the minority and the Progressives hopelessly in the rear. United, the Republicans would have a fair chance of carrying the State. Divided as they are, a Democratic victory seems certain.

The one heartening feature of the returns is the evidence they give that the Republican voters who were drawn away by the glamor of Roosevelt and the clamor of his adherents are returning to their allegiance. In that respect the story told by the New Jersey primary is the same told by the election in the Third Maine district, by the registration in Pennsylvania and New York, and by the decision of such Progressive leaders as Senator Cummins of Iowa and Governor McGovern of Wisconsin to abide with the old party. The voters are coming back and the leaders are following them. When the party is united once more it will come back to power.

Woman's Virtue Not Man-Made.

Some of the efforts to flatter women in the mass are far from complimentary when analyzed. For example, a writer in the California Outlook assumes that women are more chaste than men because male law has enforced chastity on the female. In the same article incontinence among women is ascribed to the influence of men.

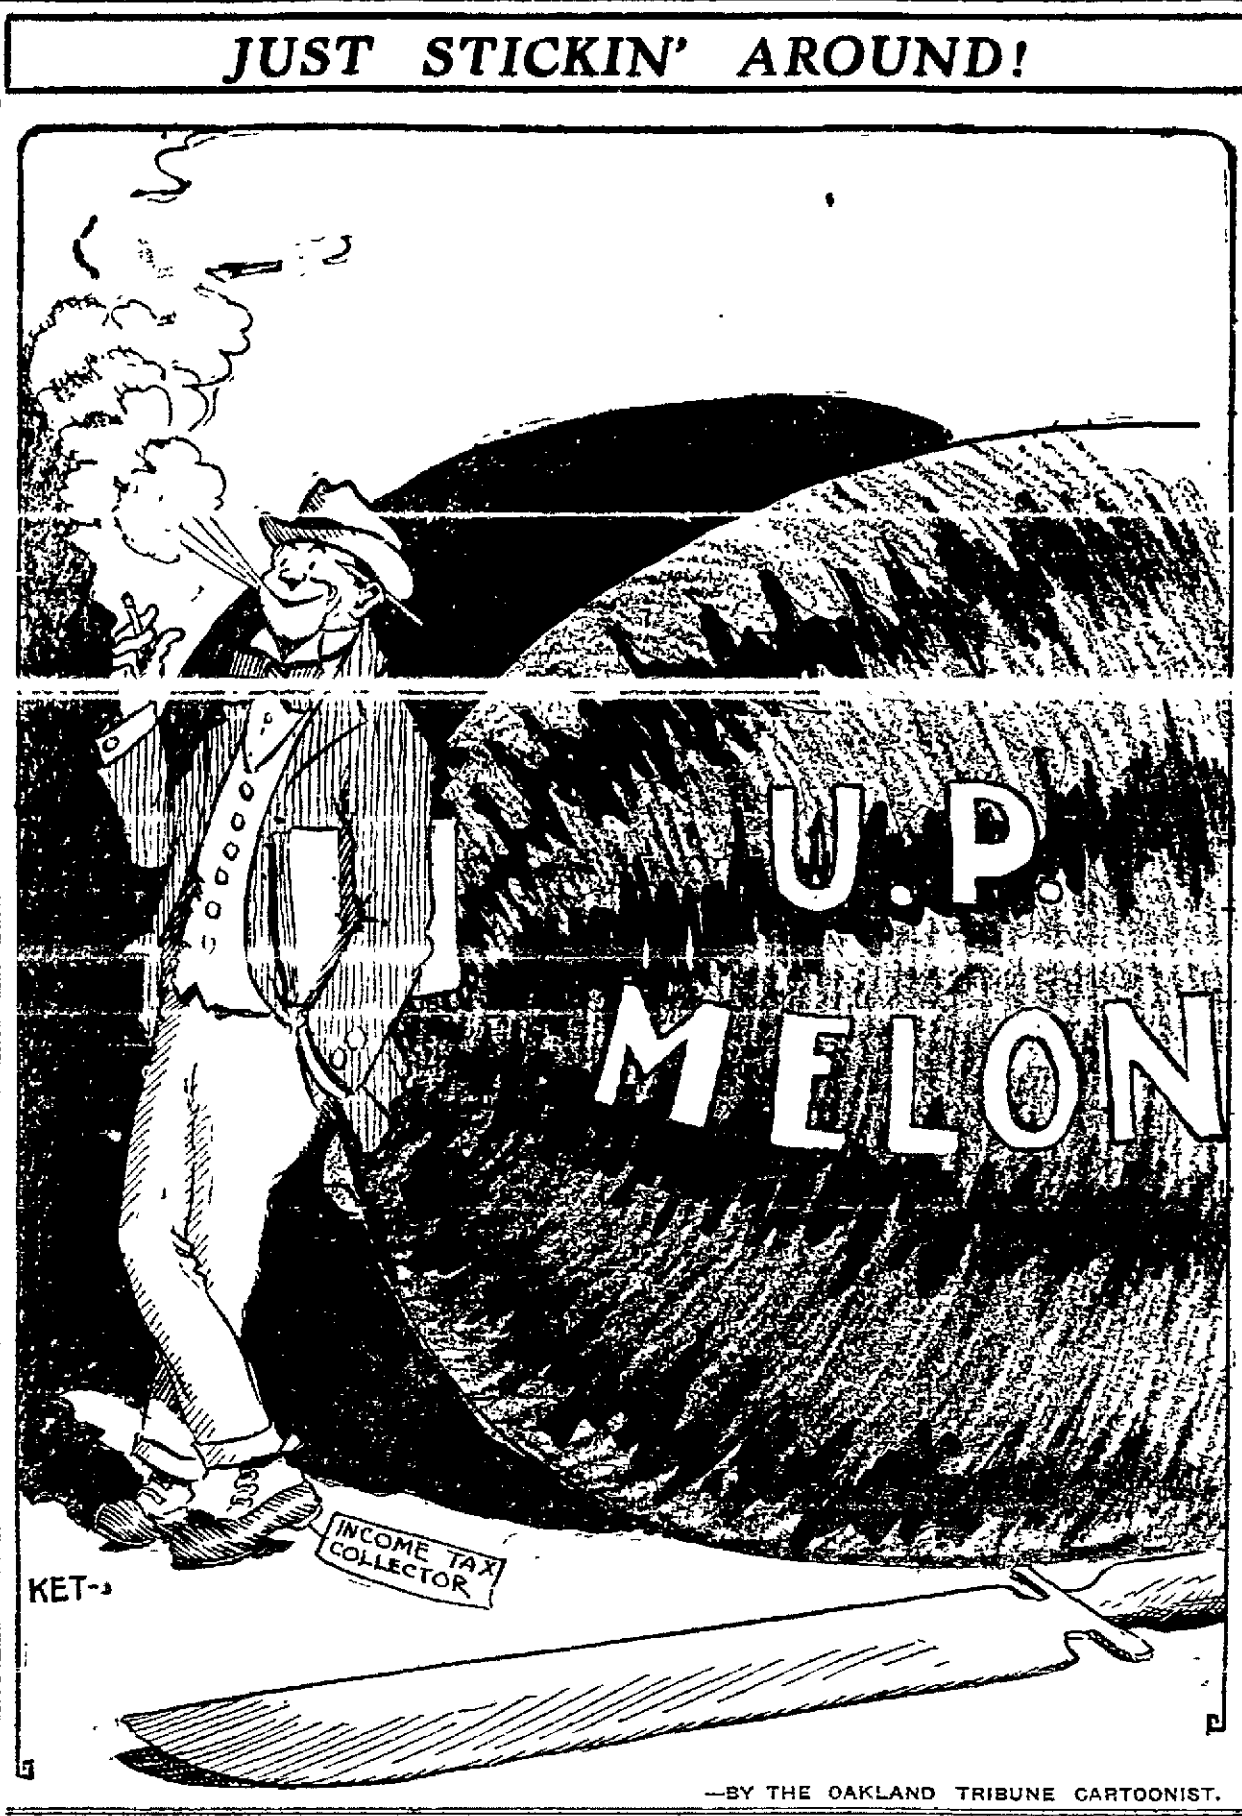

Here we have set up in one and the same thesis the contradictory and irreconcilable theories that female virtue is the product of man's tyranny and female incontinence is the result of man's corrupt influence.

Thus the beauties of the so-called double standard of morals, as well as its evils, are credited wholly to male influence. Women are given little credit for moral ideals or self-assertion in this assumption. Sex law is determined more largely by physiology than social habit. Men and women have adapted association to the laws of their being. Custom regulates the status of the association, but the social habit is a result rather than a cause. The sexual nature of woman is as different from man's as her physical structure. Her body has functions entirely different from man's, and her spiritual being harmonizes with her carnal structure and functions.

It is untrue that man has made women chaste while remaining himself unchaste. Nature made women more moral and less licentious than men. When we turn to the dark side of the association of the sexes, we see a further confirmation of this fact. It is desire on one side and love of gain on the other. His nature makes man incontinent, and he is willing to pay for his gratification. Woman is continent by nature, but some women will resort to incontinence as a source of revenue. The double standard of morals has nothing to do with it. To ascribe the operation of a physical law to social habit does an injustice to women and places the most baffling problem mankind has to solve on a false basis. No cure can ever be devised when the disease is diagnosed thus:

First—Women are good because men compel them to be good.
Second—Women are bad because men make them bad.

Nor can resolving that women and men shall be good and bad alike be accepted as a remedy. In the first place, it is no improvement on existing conditions, and in the second it ignores the fundamental facts of sexual association. Not until buyer and seller are actuated by the same motive can the same treatment be applied to both parties. Finally, however, we resent the suggestion that female chastity is the result of male tyranny, and that a more virtuous than men. Women are more moral sexually because the power that created men and women endow them with separate functions and different feelings. Nature made women purer than men for the obvious reason that the law of the race demanded it.

The Outlook in Mexico.

Carranza, the nominal head of the Constitutionalist faction, who claims to be provisional president of Mexico, announces that he will shoot any man who acknowledges the person elected at the election which is shortly to be held under the auspices of the Huerta government. No election will be held in the districts held by Carranza's supporters. Therefore the voting will all be done in the districts where the authority of Huerta is acknowledged.

Carranza's attitude illustrates the difficulty of restoring order in Mexico. Carranza calls himself a constitutionalist, but he will not consent to the election of a constitutional president by the method prescribed in the constitution. He calls himself president, but his title to the presidency is without the shadow of validity. Huerta has the color and the forms of law on his side.

The fact is that all government in Mexico rests upon force. The contending leaders are not seeking to restore peace and constitutional rule, but power and personal aggrandizement. Patriotism is a pretense. They are tearing at their country's vitals at the bidding of ambition and greed. They are not held in check by public opinion because there is no public opinion in Mexico.

Where the masses are not submissive to tyranny, brutality and robbery they are factionists. The election will be a farce, and the internecine conflict will go on till some really strong ruthless man arises and stamps disorder out with an iron heel. Porfirio Diaz was the product of continuous revolution. He was a despot who was also a patriot and a statesman. Mexico never enjoyed the blessings of peace and prosperity till he took the reins of government. He took the government by force, and ruled successfully till he relaxed his iron rule in an effort to restore constitutionalism.

Congressman Kent got another chance to "soak" the industries of California when the conference report on the tariff bill was put to a vote. He voted in favor of its adoption. Every other Republican and Progressive voted against it. Knowland, Curry, Kahn, Hayes, Nolan, Stephens and Bell recorded their protest against depriving the industries of this State of protection, but Kent voted with the Democrats.

HUNTING CATAHOULA HOGS

The wild hogs of Catahoula parish are declared by natives of that part of Louisiana to be among the most ferocious and aggressive of beasts. The flesh of these meat fed porkers is much liked by the Catahoula dwellers and they have perfected a way of capturing the hogs by which the danger and particularly the hard work of hunting them have been eliminated.

To accomplish this the hogs are trained in a special manner. The only other thing required is a strong pen or corral.

The owner of a hunt for a group of hogs in the thick and tangled Catahoula woods is made by the dog. It is his business to find the hogs. After that the hunting is all done by the hogs, for they industriously pursue the dog. The hunter himself does nothing but sit on the corral fence and wait.

Keeping always in mind the direction of the pen or corral, the dog goes into the woods and flushes a drove of wild hogs. Then he yelps out an aggravated challenge which the hogs instantly accept.

bristles of the hot-tempered hogs are erect again, and furiously the drove dashes after the dog. Again he flees.

In this way he lures the hogs on until in their mad chase they follow him through the open gate of the corral. The dog speeds to the closed end of the corral and nimbly jumps the fence while the master of the hunt lets himself down from his perch on the fence, where he has been patiently waiting the outcome of the chase, and shuts the gate on the entrapped porkers.

The persistent and intelligent dog that like of which is not found elsewhere than in the languorous shades of the Catahoula wilds, is rewarded with a liberal hunk of corn pone, and the next day there is a great hog killing time at the corral, followed by a feast and revelry.—New York Sun.

There are now about 40 "psychological clinics" in the United States, according to Dr. J. E. Wallin, of the University of Pittsburgh. The first of such clinics, for mentally unusual children, was established at the University of Pennsylvania in 1896.

There may be no connection between horrors set forth in moving pictures and the increase of insanity, but there is no reason why there should not be.

ALONE ON AN ISLAND

GUERNSEY, England. — "Circumference, one and one-quarter miles; acres, 44; population, seven."

That is the brief official description of the island of Jethou, one of the Channel Islands, where one family has lived alone a healthy, hardy, natural life for the last year. The island is crown property.

In crowded England it seems incredible that one family is living such a "Swiss Family Robinson" life only three and a half miles east of Guernsey.

John Drillet, the head of the family, his wife and five children—the oldest of whom, a girl of 18, and the youngest a baby boy of 3—are the only residents on the island.

"I was appointed caretaker of the island about a year ago," said Drillet, "and I am paid a yearly salary, but I mostly live by fishing and gardening."

"Not one of us has been ill while we have been here, but in case of emergencies we have a flag, which is our signal for a doctor by day. At night we have a fire and a cannon if help is needed from Guernsey."

The ways and progress of the outside world do not trouble this lonely family. If any letters are expected Drillet has to sail his boat to Guernsey to get them. The education of the children is left to Mrs. Drillet, who in a very systematic way teaches her children.

Even cows and horses are unknown on this island. Two goats supply the milk, a donkey does the transport work, while a dog is the companion of all.

"We wouldn't like to live anywhere else," one boy said. "We love staying here, and we don't mind being without other children to play with."

The only visitors to the island are tourists who occasionally make visits in the summer, but the Drillet family exacts a small fee from them every time they touch land.

There are fine springs and wells which supply water, while rabbits and wild fowl abound.

RODE ON A TREE TRUNK

A stirring tale of the sea was told by the officers of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Banca on the arrival of that vessel at Bombay last month, after a voyage from Japan. They had on board a swarthy Dutch Malay, who was rescued under extraordinary circumstances.

The Banca left Yokohama, with a cargo of coal, bound for Bombay. During the passage of the Straits of Malacca an object was described floating in the sea. The course of the vessel was altered, and as the Banca steamed nearer the object of a man was made out, seated on a tree trunk, and waving his trousers as a distress signal. The castaway was picked up and taken aboard in a state of extreme exhaustion.

When he had recovered the man told an amazing story. He declared that he and four companions set out in a small boat, when they were overtaken by a gale. Their frail craft was unable to withstand the storm and eventually capsized. They were thrown into the water, but finding a tree trunk close by they clung to it and thus rode out the gale. They remained in this awful predicament for three days, during which they suffered from hunger and thirst, and in danger from sharks. There was no possibility of reaching land, even had they known in which direction it lay. Their only hope was being rescued by passing steamers. Several vessels did, in fact, pass them, but no notice was taken of their frantic signals and cries for help. The unfortunates were washed away one by one until only the Malay remained. Sighting the Banca he renewed his efforts to attract notice, and was eventually successful.—London Telegraph.

Whipple was summoned before Hennessy and laconically turned his pockets inside out and showed that he had only a dime. He explained that his partner had departed to parts unknown taking with him the proceeds would like to pay the chorus girls, but that he was unable to do so.

"You can't squeeze blood from a stone," he said.

The girls are without money and were depending upon their salaries to pay their board bills. CITY OFFICIALS WIN AT PRIMARY

Many Incumbents Will Not Have to Go to Polls in November.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—The returns from "yesterday's" primary election had not been completely counted up to noon today, but the figures available show that all of the office holders, with the exception of one police judge and the nine supervisors who figured in the contest, have been re-elected without the necessity of November election.

The officials now placed in office for another four years were busy today receiving the congratulations of their friends and thanking their supporters. Those who will not have to battle again and who are assured of their positions are City Attorney Percy V. Long, Treasurer John McDougald, Tax Collector J. O. Low, Recorder Edmund Godchaux, Public Administrator J. C. Brown and Police Judge

While riding a bicycle shortly after 5:45 o'clock last evening Louis O'Connor, 19 years of age, a marker employed at the Antelope Laundry and living at 2213 Union street, collided with another man riding a similar machine, throwing him to the ground directly in front of an automobile driven by Harry Roach, son of H. He was removed by Roach to the Fabiola Hospital where he later in the evening succumbed from effects of a fractured skull. The accident occurred at the intersection of Webster street and Webster street. O'Connor had just left the laundry, and was to be employed and was riding side of Webster towards Moss avenue. In response to the warning horn of Roach, who was driving south along Moss avenue, both riders started to turn their cycles to the right side of the street. In so doing, two of the cycles collided, O'Connor being thrown directly in front of the automobile. Following the accident O'Connor was rushed to Roach's machine to the Fabiola hospital, where, despite heroic medical aid, he died.

According to the police, the accident was unavoidable, the machine moving very slowly at the time and its operator having no opportunity to bring it to a stop.

ANNULMENT OF MARRIAGE DENIED

Suicide Attempt Is Explained During Hearing of Application.

Marital Woes of Skinners Are Under Probe by Judge.

Trouble which caused Mrs. Clara Skinner to attempt suicide by taking poison on September 20 was partially cleared up this morning when Superior Judge Skinner for annulment of his marriage. The matter has been pending in the courts for nearly a year. The couple were married in Racine, Wis., three years ago, within a year after Mrs. Skinner had obtained a decree of divorce from a former husband in Chicago. After the ceremony Skinner learned of the divorce and left his wife, coming to Oakland, where he took employment as a drug clerk.

The judge learned that she had sued for an annulment through reading law newspapers and she wrote a letter to the court, stating that she had not heard of the proceedings and asking that action be deferred until she could defend herself. Accordingly an order was made whereby Skinner was forced to pay for his wife's transportation to Oakland.

After arrival here Mrs. Skinner was forced to find employment for her support. She took rooms at 1311 Castro street. Her husband resided at 610 Hobart street.

In his complaint for annulment Skinner claimed that his marriage was not legal because his wife had married within a year after obtaining her divorce.

Judge Donahue decided this morning that the jurisdiction of the divorce obtained in Illinois did not extend beyond the borders of that state and that the marriage in Wisconsin was legal.

"Skinner" knew the legal status of the divorce and if there was a wrong done he was as guilty as his wife," said the court.

"The petition for annulment is therefore denied."

At the time Mrs. Skinner attempted suicide she telephoned to her husband three times during the morning threatening to take her life. The fourth time she phoned she announced that she had taken the poison and said goodbye. Skinner rushed to her room with a policeman and found his wife unconscious. He was taken to the Emergency hospital and after heroic treatment revived. She wrote a note saying that as her husband had refused to return and live with her she had decided to end it all.

AUTO ENGINE IS TO BE ACCEPTED

Final Test in Drafting From Tidal Canal at Depth of 15 Feet.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 1.—The final test of automobile fire engine No. 2 was given yesterday afternoon at the north end of Oak street when water was drawn from the tidal canal. The test was satisfactory in every way, two streams being projected at a distance of 155 feet with a gauge pressure of 100 pounds.

The test was made drafting water from a depth of 15 feet, and was to the satisfaction of Fire Chief Walter Stelmets. Some little difficulty was experienced in getting the engine started, due, it is said, to the fact that new bearings had been put in and some little time will be required for these to get down to a free working surface. The engine is to be run at a hydrant for several hours in order to overcome this friction.

Foreman Charles Beuck of Station No. 1 left this morning on his annual two-weeks vacation. He will make a trip through the northern part of the state.

The invitation is an elaborate one explaining in detail the construction of this monster engineering work. Mayor Otis is endeavoring to attend the celebration, being anxious to view the completed aqueduct.

Prosperity Piano Sale! Prosperity Piano Sale! Prosperity Piano Sale!

More Than a Year's Output of Pianos to be Sold Within the Next 3 Months

Good times are back. The money market is again easy. I've sold more pianos last month than during any month heretofore in Oakland, and there have been lots of pianos sold hereabouts.

I'm going to sell more Pianos and Autopianos during the next three months than have ever been sold in Oakland during any one year heretofore. See if I don't. My name isn't Barnes if I don't do it. I'll agree to quit my job if I don't do it. Oakland is prosperous. Oakland people want homes and have the wherewithal to make home complete when the right opportunity is presented. I have the right opportunity to present right now, and I'll repeat my statement. I shall sell more pianos and player pianos (high grade ones, too, not stenciled) in Oakland during the months of October, November and December than have been sold in any one year heretofore. Oakland is going to be on the piano map. Here is the great city of homes and home isn't complete without a fine piano. I am going to complete many a nice Oakland home right away.

This then is our prosperity offer, the finest of Chickering and Kimball's, and Sohmers, and Haddorf's, and genuine Autopiano player pianos are going into this sale at prices lower than ever heretofore. It is pretty generally understood now that piano merchandising depends upon the same underlying commercial principles that obtain in any other business. When 100 pianos, say, are sold in the same length of time when otherwise only 10 pianos would be sold, it will be understood that a great deal lower price per piano can be made to each one of the 100 buyers. Thus these present low prices are possible.

But this is not all—we are making an advertising test. We want to find out where the manufacturers' and our own advertising money can be placed to best advantage, thus on page 4 is published a publicity certificate. We accept this at face value, $38.50, as so much cash toward payment of any piano in this sale. Read also how this certificate becomes good for $115.50. This is the greatest opportunity we have yet developed to supply good pianos at a price within reach of every Oakland home. The finest of $375 pianos are now marked to sell for $255. From this price the publicity coupon is to be deducted.

The finest of $450 pianos are $295. And the usual $250 kinds are $167. New $650, 88-note player pianos are $440. New $550, 88-note player pianos are $360.

The most elegant player pianos and $850 and $1000 baby grands at corresponding reductions.

Remember, money back if piano is not found exactly as represented in every respect. Remember, too, terms as low as $2, $1.50, yes, even $1.25 weekly can now be made. You must act quickly—the pianos are here, the reductions are genuine and there are hundreds of homes anxious to get one at these extraordinarily low prices and these ridiculously easy terms. Store open day and night until this sale closes.

Free music rolls with exchange privilege with all players. All prices include bench, stool, tuning for one year, 10-year guarantee, delivery, music rolls, etc.

LATE SENATOR'S SON IS SUED

Herbert E. Nixon, Defendant in $20,000 Damage
Suit.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Henry O. Stoddard and his wife, 1905 Bush street, filed a suit in Reno, Nevada, yesterday for $20,000 damages against Herbert E. Nixon, son of the late Senator.

mobile accident in this city on September 11, when Mrs. Stoddard says, she was struck by Nixon's automobile and seriously injured.

Nixon was arrested twice in 25 minutes on the afternoon of September 11 for violating the traffic regulations, once at 4:55 o'clock and again at 5:20 o'clock. Just before his second arrest, a few minutes after he had been taken to the Hall of Justice and had deposited $25 cash bail, his machine ran down Mrs. Stoddard, according to the complaint filed in Reno yesterday. He was again taken to the Hall of Justice and deposited the same bail.

Mrs. Stoddard alleges that the injuries resulted in probably permanent afflictions, and that her general health has been dangerously affected.

Nixon's adventures of September 11 were not his first experience with the San Francisco traffic police. When he was stopped by a policeman and warned, near the Adler Sanitarium, October 5, 1912, he insisted that he be arrested, saying: "My father was a lawmaker, and I ought to know the law." He was accommodated, but later forfeited his bail and returned September 11 for a second lesson.

COUNT BUYS GEMS FOR

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A Brussels Telegram states that the famous $550,000 pearl necklace of Max Mayer has been purchased by the Count du Monteban on behalf of another person, and that the Count is about to sail for America with the necklace. Two Mayors Tango Rivals
To Compete for Supremacy

MRS. T. J. FLYNN, WHO IS TAKING PART IN PREPARATIONS FOR

What did the mayor of San Leandro say to the mayor of Hayward? It wasn't the same remark the two governors of proverbial fame made, but an entirely different one, with a far different ending. He declared that he could dance the tango better than his brother executive, and the result is that the matter will be settled by impartial judges.

Mayor Charles Heyer, of Hayward, and Mayor F. Schmidt of San Leandro, will tango for the championship of Castro Valley, the judges at the coming Oakland Police ball to decide their case.

The two mayors will compete for a handsome prize to be offered by the Widows and Orphans' Association of the Oakland Police Department, when, on the night of October 14, Idora Park Pavilion will be the scene of the big annual police benefit ball. Under the direction of Chief of Police W. J. Petersen, and Captains C. H. Beck and J. F. Lynch, the details of the contest, one of the features of the ball, have been finally arranged.

Among the guests of the evening will be the mayors and chiefs of police of all the Alameda and Contra Costa county municipalities.

The preliminary details for the big event are being handled by efficient committees and the big pavilion will be ready for the great crowd. Patrolman George E. Green, chairman of the Illumination committee, is now at work on novel lighting effects which will add to the beauty of the pavilion. The decoration committee in charge of Sergeant James Walters is making use of the expert knowledge in the color scheme to be used. That the music will be of high class can be seen at a glance at the personnel of the committee which consists of Captain L. F. Arney, Lieutenant Fred Schroeder, Sergeant Robert Forgie, Corporal Al Poulter, Inspector Dennis Holland and Patrolman Ernest Holmberger and Michael Moore. Holland is famous for his rendition of some of the most exquisite ballads of Tom Moore, the Irish poet.

Among the many "stunts" which will be given on the big night will be an Irish reel by the stable footed Timothy Duane to strains produced by Patrick McFigue on the bagpipes.

Inspector T. J. Flynn is among those taking an active part in the preparations for the ball. Mrs. T. J. Flynn is also interested in the event.

Merzian and will be used to defray the cost of an elaborate banquet which will be given the members of the tug's crew.

AWFUL PIMPLES

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—"I had been troubled for the past three years with pimples which completely covered my face and neck. The pimples would come out, fester up and cause me to pick at them, feeling very uncomfortable. I tried most all kinds of facial creams, but with no effect. I tried a sample of Resinol Soap and Ointment, and noticed instant relief. I bought Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and began the treatment. After using two jars of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, there was not a pimple to be seen, and now my face is as smooth as if there was never a pimple on it." DANIELS' ACTION
CAUSES COMMENT

House Naval Men Not to Pay a Visit to Coast as Planned.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Amazed by the action yesterday of Secretary of the Navy Daniels in practically instructing the Naval Affairs Committee of the House not to take the trip of inspection to the Pacific Coast, which has been planned for several weeks, two Republican members of the committee—Representatives Britton and Roberts, announced they would make the trip themselves, paying their own expenses. Representatives Kahn and Knowland will also make the trip.

The committee has been planning to inspect naval stations on the Pacific Coast for several weeks. Secretary Daniels has made generous promises to the Pacific Coast in the way of naval policies and expenditures. One of the chief items was a great dry dock, costing many millions, at San Francisco. Members of the committee, which has to make the appropriation, were anxious to see the spot selected and to go into other details on the spot. In fact, the trip was planned because the Secretary of the Navy asked the committee to go.

Instead of being looked upon as a junketing trip, the rest of the house regarded the inspection by the committee as a necessary trip. It would cost about $7500 to take the entire committee to make a close examination of the stations where $30,000,000 are to be spent. This money would have been paid by Daniels from the contingent fund of the Navy Department.

Secretary Daniels communicated with Chairman Padgett of the Naval Affairs committee and called off the trip. Chairman Padgett communicated the Secretary's views to the rest of the committee at a meeting yesterday. Republican members of the committee declared there was something hidden in the sudden change. They criticized Daniels freely for calling off the trip.

STOCKTON, Oct. 1.—P. He announced that he would study his paper would be published by his wife. Judge C. W. Norton refused a motion for a stay of judgment and ordered the defendant into custody. FUEL TEST RUN SHOWS VALUE TO OWNER

Economical Operation of Six-Cylinder Car Is Shown

(By EDMUND CRINNION)

A record run that really means something to the prospective auto buyer was made yesterday by H. O. Harrison in a Hudson Six car when he arrived in Fresno, having made the 184 mile run from San Francisco in exactly ten and one-half gallons of gasoline, averaging 17 1/2 miles to the gallon. This phenomenal run, which was made by a 1914 six-cylinder car, is a record for the class.

clams repeatedly made that the six-cylinder cars are very expensive to operate from the fuel standpoint. "Very few cars anywhere near the size and carrying capacity of the new Hudson Six can average anywhere near the 17 1/2 mile mark to the gallon of gasoline," according to Charlie Burman, the head of the local H. O. Harrison Company in Oakland, who says:

"The performance of the Hudson car is economical motor-car operation ever furnished in the West and is a proof of the possibilities of the new car in running this type of machine."

"The test trip from San Francisco to Fresno was made for the purpose of demonstrating the actual cost of running in a six-cylinder car, and the result is undoubtedly a victory for this type of machine."

"The trip was made according to the ordinary running time of tourists, averaging slightly over 20 miles an hour. Leaving the office of a San Francisco newspaper just in time to catch the 6 o'clock ferry, H. O. Harrison, Western distributor of the Hudson cars; R. C. Greth, factory representative, and a newspaper representative, made the run to the Rialto City via Oakland, Hayward, Livermore and Modesto."

"Harrison handled the car all of the time and gave an exhibition of steady and consistent driving, seldom going over 25 miles an hour. From Oakland to Modesto only 7 gallons of gasoline were used, much to the surprise of the car which had been expected to use at least 10 gallons."

EXPECTED RECORD

"I knew we would make a fine record when we had used only 7 gallons to Modesto," says Harrison, "and when we arrived at Fresno we had used only 10 1/2 gallons to run 184 miles, making 17 1/2 gallons for the entire trip. I was satisfied."

Both Greth and Harrison are enthusiastic over the showing of the car, and as the trip was a test run for low cost of operation of a six-cylinder car, it is expected to create a great deal of interest among motor enthusiasts."

RECORD SHOWS ECONOMY OF SIX.

The wonderful record for fuel economy made by the Hudson Six in the 184 mile run to Fresno from San Francisco on ten and one-half gallons of gasoline, averaging 17 1/2 miles to the gallon proves the economy of the six-cylinder car. The four-cylinder car, which is the standard car, uses 10 1/2 gallons to run 184 miles, making 17 1/2 gallons for the entire trip. I was satisfied."

The economy of this claim is shown by the fact that the six-cylinder car is more economical than a four of the same horse-power rating. It is a fact that the six-cylinder car is a physical impossibility for a six-cylinder car, say of 300 cubic inch cylinder area, to burn more gas than a four of the same area. They would wonder why the claim was ever made."

Then again it is a known fact that with a six one can make grades without the wide open throttle that is necessary for a four. The smoothness with which the six operates over and above the four makes it much more economical."

DEMAREST VISITING CITY.

H. Demarest, general manager of the Auto Tire Company on the Pacific Coast, is at present visiting Manager Leuthold of the San Francisco branch. Demarest has just returned from a trip East and he says the outlook for the tire industry looks promising, although in some quarters there is little uncertainty as to what will be the effect if the tariff on rubber is materially reduced. At the Auto Tire branches in Los Angeles and San Diego, Demarest reports keen activity, and he is most favorably impressed with the increased trade at the local headquarters. He will remain here until tomorrow night and will then go to Fresno, where he is contemplating opening another branch for the firm.

VELIE MAN HERE

C. E. Gilmer, sales manager of the Velie motor company, is in San Francisco. Gilmer is making his rounds of the territory, closing up contracts for 1914, and is making his headquarters with President Max L. Rosenfeld of the Auto Sales Company, agents for the Velie pleasure cars and trucks.

REO MAN HERE

R. C. Rueschaw, sales manager of the Reo factory, has arrived in San Francisco. Rueschaw has been spending some three weeks taking the rest cure on his big ranch in the Northwest. He came into San Francisco yesterday, taking up his itinerary for his annual tour to the different agencies, beginning at San Francisco.

CO-OPERATIVE STORES FOR UNITED RAILROADS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Co-operative stores are to be established by the United Railroads for the benefit of their employees. The 3,000 men who work for the company, together with several thousand others dependent upon or connected with them by family ties, will be given a big boost in their efforts to get the best of the high cost of living. The stores will sell food and clothing at prices just enough above cost to pay for their expenses.

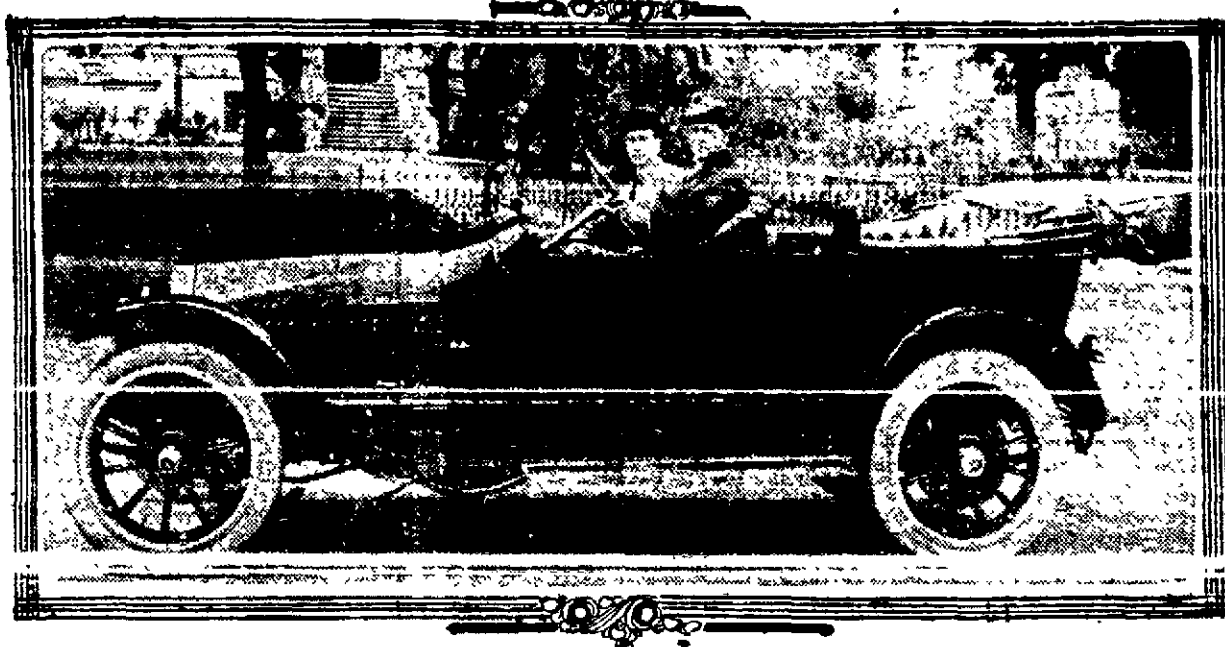

Jesse W. Lillenthal, president of the United Railroads, announced yesterday that he was well advanced with plans for the co-operative stores.

CAPTURED WITH STOLEN GOODS AFTER CHASE

Caught in the act of making way with a quantity of old brass valued at $150 from the junk yard of Max Silverstein at Fifth and Webster streets, Edward Pickles, Jacob Grossman and Sam Klein were captured yesterday by police.

Officer G. E. Burbank discovered the men at work. Grossman was in the act of passing out a sack of brass to his confederates when Burbank halted them. They fled, with the officer in pursuit and after a chase through the streets of the Chinatown district the trio were captured.

'RING' OPERATIONS TO BE STOPPED

Oriental Elude Authorities by Crossing Over Mexican Border.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Alleging that the privilege which permits Chinese to cross overland from this port to Mexico is being used as a subterfuge by nearly 2,000 Orientals who annually steal back over the border into this country, the United States immigration officials are preparing to put a stop to the practice.

This was learned yesterday when 80 Chinese who had been captured along the Mexican line were sent back to China on the steamship Nippon Maru. About the same number were deported on the Mongolia, which sailed for the Orient today.

For years the United States has permitted an average of 50 to 100 Chinese a week in transit to various places in Mexico. According to inspectors and special agents who have made a rigid investigation, most of these Chinese later make their way back into the United States.

The United States spends $100,000 annually in shipping the Chinese back to the Orient. When the immigrant is deported after being held upon the arrival of the steamer the expense of maintenance and the passage across the Pacific is paid by the steamship company. The government pays for sending Chinese back from the Mexican border.

These Chinese sent back on the Nippon Maru yesterday declared that the steamship companies are responsible for the return of the Chinese who cross the Pacific each year. They explained that Chinese agents travel about in China and offer the inducement of certain entry into the United States to those who will take the trip in transit to Mexico.

TRACKLESS TROLLEY CAR FOR HILLSIDES, PLAN

SAUSALITO, Oct. 1.—No more will the weary hilltop commuters of Sausalito be forced to wind up their days' toil by climbing to their homes on the bluffs surrounding the business section of this village if the plan of local business men materializes. Instead, upon the payment of a fare they will be lifted from the local ferry building to any elevation lower than the topmost peak within the town limits in a trackless trolley car.

This, at least, is the promise of a score of local residents headed by A. E. Roberts. They plan to build a co-operative trackless trolley car system operated by electricity. It is to cost $10,000, one-half of which is subscribed.

The car will be suspended from a cable and will seat eighteen persons, safely, it is claimed, before reaching the "S. R. O." sign. Roberts hopes to have the line in operation within six months.

ECZEMA BROKE OUT IN PIMPLES

Itched So Child Would Cry and Scratch Himself Until Blood Ran. Very Much Disfigured. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Proved Complete Cure.

Whitewater, Colo.—"Ecema broke out all over my little grandson's face and body. It just looked as though blood poison would set up at times when he would scratch himself so much. The ecema broke out in pimples and would run a watery corruption and whenever the water touched the flesh, another pimple would form, until the pimples would come out of his eyes and he lost his eyes at night. The disease was so irritating and would itch so that I have seen him in such an irritating condition that he would cry and scratch himself until the blood would run. He was very much disfigured as the skin would be torn from his cheeks from the scratching."

"I tried all the simple remedies that I know of to stop the pain and burning. I used soap and water and bathed him in soda water but they did not cure him. This to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, which proved a complete cure in a short time." (Signed) Mrs. Laura Stephens, Nov. 19, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 5c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

For Sallow, Blotchy, Rough or Greasy Skins

(From Woman's Tribune)

Some skins require constant grooming to keep them from becoming oily, muddy, blotchy or rough, or if such condition has developed, it overcomes it. In such chronic cases it is particularly inadvisable to keep getting on cosmetics which clog the pores, collect dust and dirt, making the complexion worse than ever. It's a lot more sensible to use one easy mercurized wax, which literally absorbs a bad complexion. Apply the wax, like cold cream, before retiring, next morning, in washing it off, you'll wash away with you the particles of the unsightly cuticle. Repeat for a week or more and you'll have an entirely new skin—soft, satiny, spotless and beautiful as a child's. One ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any drugstore, is all you'll need.

If the skin be wrinkled or flabby, here's the best possible remedy: Mix 1/2 pint witch hazel and 1 ounce powdered exfoliate and use as a race bath. It works like a miracle, yet is entirely harmless.

ASK THAT CITIES ENDORSE HARBOR

Richmond Seeks Support of Docks Project From Neighbors.

RICHMOND, Oct. 1.—In answer to the request of the Richmond Industrial Commission, the city council at its meeting Monday night adopted resolutions asking the city councils of the Sacramento and San Francisco bays, adopt resolutions giving moral support and endorsement to the Richmond inner harbor project and state their reasons for so doing. The Richmond harbor project is deemed of more than local importance. Congressman Church of Fresno, in a speech before the congressional rivers and harbors board of engineers, said that the harbor here would be a benefit even to his county, as it would tend toward developing a greater world market for the raisin output to have the ships of the world docking here and asking for return cargoes.

Congressman Charles F. Curry is working hard for the federal appropriation asked for and is of the opinion that it will be forthcoming at the regular session if not before.

Work here on the details and preliminary plans of the harbor project is being pushed with all possible rapidity. That actual work upon the tunnel, highway, municipal wharf and inner harbor can begin at an early date. All that is holding this back now are the condemnation suits against the Nichol company and the Santa Fe railroad, and it is believed that these will be out of the way in another month.

RICHMOND SOCIAL, LODGE AND CHURCH EVENTS

RICHMOND, Oct. 1.—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Guild of Trinity Episcopal church will be held at 2:30 this afternoon in the parlors of the church. Business of importance to the organization will be discussed.

A delightful social affair was given yesterday at the Edgema apartments by Mrs. W. W. Feich. What was the principal attraction of the evening was the winner of the first trophy, Mrs. R. L. Scott, second, and Mrs. W. N. Carter, third.

Refreshments were served and Mesdames Feich, Hunter and White rendered musical selections.

Mrs. L. H. Shaw, of the Richmond Y. M. C. A., departed this morning for Lancaster, Ohio, where she will visit relatives until just before the Christmas holidays.

One of the smartest parties and entertainments of the past month was that given in the Federal hall last evening by the Richmond chapter of the Eastern Star, it being the annual reception in honor of the Masonic lodge and the annual meeting of this city. An elaborate literary and musical program was enjoyed, followed by dancing and a banquet. The program was of exceptional merit and the annual reception of last evening was voted to be the best yet held.

The affair was attended by several hundred guests and proved a social triumph to the chapter, its officers and members. The committee, composed of Mrs. R. L. Scott, Mrs. W. N. Carter, Mrs. L. H. Shaw, Mrs. L. A. Farrell, Dr. L. A. Martin, H. E. Lange, Ross Calfee and Dr. Scroggs, rendered a fine musical selection.

Mrs. P. E. Adams entertained as an elocutionist.

Mrs. Shaw, H. J. Percher, E. Richards and Mrs. Rich also contributed to the musical excellence of the program.

NEGRO BATTERED IN RACE RIOT

Baltimore Scene of Attack by Mob on Colored Man.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 1.—In a race riot late last night a negro was so badly battered about the head with bricks that it is believed he will die, another negro was seriously injured and four white boys were shot, though not seriously hurt.

George Howe (colored), from whose home the shots were fired which struck the boys, was attacked by a mob of about 1000 white men and boys while police were endeavoring to place him in the patrol wagon. There were cries of "lynch him," and despite the efforts of the policemen to shield the negro, he was struck a number of times.

The shots were fired through closed shutters after Howe's house had been battered with bricks and stones. It is the only house in the block occupied by negroes.

PEDIGREE CATTLE CAN NOW ENTER U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Owing to the fact that many importers of pedigree British cattle, sheep and swine are aware that the prohibition which was placed on the importation of these animals from Great Britain on account of foot and mouth disease, has been removed, Sir Arthur Spring Rice, British ambassador here, through the State Department, has requested the Secretary of Agriculture to announce that the disease has been eradicated and that importation to the United States are now permitted.

Everybody happy? Sure we are—good times are back. Did you see what that fellow Barnes is offering over at Ellers? Prosperity Sale he calls it. Guess it will prosper all right.

MUTUAL RELATIONS AND INTERESTS OF THE BELL SYSTEM AND THE PUBLIC

The suit brought by the United States questioning the purchase of certain telephone properties in the northwest, as well as the pending Interstate Commerce Commission telephone investigation, have caused many inquiries. Without taking up anything going to the merits of these proceedings, it has seemed to us proper to state generally what has been our policy and purpose in the conduct of our business.

We have found, or thought that we had, that our interests were best served when the public interests were best served; and we believe that such success as we have had has been because our business has been conducted on these lines.

We believe that our company has an interest as vital as that of the public whole; that rates must be so adjusted as to make it possible to obtain the maximum development by making it possible for every one to be connected who will add to the value of the system, thus giving the greatest value to the greatest number; that the interdependence of the telephone service and the value of complete and universal intercommunication justify and require some services partly at the expense of the whole for the benefit of the whole.

We believe that this highest commercial value can only be obtained by one system under one common control and that it cannot be given by independent systems unless they are operated under agreements which result in one common control and one common interest, in effect making problems of electrical intercommunication. The success and prosperity of our company depend upon a solution of these problems which shall be sound from both the standpoint of the company and the public which it serves.

Following our own best judgment, supplemented by the best obtainable advice, we have endeavored to do what would best serve the public interest; wherever possible our plans have been disclosed to the public in advance, and what has been done in carrying them out has been along ordinary business lines, with the implicit, and generally, with the expressed approval, authorization or consent of the municipal and state authorities directly interested. Our effort has been not only to obey the law, but to avoid everything which might even have the appearance of an attempt at evasion.

Our business methods and policy, and practically all of the details as to the transaction of our business, are matters of common knowledge and are, and for many years have been, well known to the government. We will willingly furnish the government any additional information which is in our possession or under our control, and will cordially co-operate with it in obtaining such further information as it may require. Every possible assistance will be given by us to the courts in their effort to determine whether our policy is or has been inimical to the public interest. We desire that anything wrong be corrected; we will voluntarily rectify any wrong that may be pointed out to us; and so far as it may be determined that our policy or any act under it is against the public interest, we will promptly conform to such determination.

We believe that if each of our exchanges were made an independent unit and if each connecting line were put under a separate control, the effect upon the telephone service of the country would be a condition so intolerable that the public would refuse to submit to it and would immediately require such physical connection and common control of these various units as would amalgamate them into a single system. Physical connection in the case of

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS DELAY ACTION ON TARIFF

CONFERENCE REPORT IS DELAYED

Bill Will Not Be Forced Through Session Today

Ample Time Will Be Allowed for Executive Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The entire conference report on the tariff bill was laid aside for 24 hours in the Senate today as the result of a protest among Democratic Senators, which resulted in the calling of a party caucus to go over the conference report before it should be finally acted on in the Senate.

The hurriedly called meeting assembled at 11 o'clock, but when the Senate met at noon no progress had been made toward a conclusion and the Democratic leaders agreed to lay the tariff bill aside. The caucus resumed work at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

After an hour's discussion, Democratic leaders determined not to try to force the tariff bill through the Senate today, but to allow ample time for debate behind closed doors.

POMERENE AGAIN.
Senator Pomerene's objection to the action of the conferees in dropping the $1.10 tax on grape brandy used to fortify sweet wines, and Senator Reed's criticisms of the decisions of the conferees on several important tariff rates, were the chief points brought up when the caucus met.

Senator Kern, the Democratic leader, and Chairman Simmons of the finance committee, expressed the opinion that the tariff bill would be taken up tomorrow in the Senate. The controversy over the proposed cotton futures tax may further prolong the deliberations of the Democratic caucus.

When the Senate met the conference report on the bill as agreed to by the House was presented. Senator Simmons, for the conferees, asked that the conference report be allowed to lie on the table until tomorrow. He offered no explanation of the report, but it was granted, and the consideration of the tariff bill went over.

MAY SEND BACK.
The threat of Republicans, including Senators LaFollette and Penrose, that they might try to send the conference report back to the conferees, was taken up in the Senate further complicated the situation. It was feared that a movement of that kind, if it received the support of any Democrats, might be sufficient to issue instructions that would embarrass the conferees.

Democratic members of the finance committee were called together hurriedly and the new complications were taken up. Parliamentary clerks of the Senate also were summoned, so that the Democratic leaders might know just what stand to take in floor tactics.

Senators who signed the petition were Reed, O'Gorman, Shafer, Myers, Salisbury, Owen, Hollis, Hitchcock, Pomerene and Martine.

Doing a year's business in three months is going some, but I'm going to do it or my name isn't Barnes.

Nicholson Claims His Bride Weds Nobleman's Daughter

MRS. HAROLD NICHOLSON, FORMERLY HON. VICTORIA SACKVILLE WEST, WHO WAS MARRIED TODAY. SHE WAS KNOWN AS "KIDLET" IN THE RECENT SENSATIONAL SACKVILLE WEST WILL CASE.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Harold Nicholson today at Knoll Park Chapel claimed as his bride, Hon. Victoria Sackville-West, daughter of the English noblewoman, whose recent suit in the famed Sackville will case attracted the attention of the world. The ceremony was very quiet, the family only attending. Following the ceremony, the pair prepared for their departure to New York today.

According to Lawson Purdy, president of the board of tax commissioners, however, the removal of accounts from New York city to other states did not exempt the owner from taxation on these deposits and he cannot avoid the tax unless he ventures a false oath as to the amount of his personal property.

MRS. MARY VAUGHN IN HIDE AND SEEK

Special Policeman Arrests, Then Loses Charmer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Mary Vaughn, for whom the police hold a bench warrant and who was indicted by the grand jury for grand larceny for an alleged attempt to blackmail Judge M. Widney of Los Angeles, last night was in the clutches of Special Patrolman Mueller, but told him such a plausible story that he released her five minutes before Officer Hurley drove up in an automobile to take her into custody.

This morning it was learned that the detective holding the warrant have never been able to find Mrs. Vaughn at her usual haunts. Last night Acting Captain of Detectives Dinan received a message that Mrs. Vaughn was walking along Ellis street. The citizen who telephoned her out to the first officer he met. This was Mueller. In the meantime Hurley was sent out. Mrs. Vaughn, if indeed it was really Mrs. Vaughn who was in custody, persuaded Mueller that she was a prominent woman locally and would make trouble for him if he held her. Chief of Police White is considering the placing of

JOHNSON DEFINES FUTURE CANDIDACY

Governor Will Not Give Decision Until End of Year

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—Governor Johnson, in speaking this morning of the circulated story that he would be forced into running for Governor because of the animosity which several prominent Progressives are said to be displaying towards him, reiterated the statement that he would not decide until the end of this year whether he would again be a candidate for public office. His statement also read that the policy of Progressives depended upon the will of the people, not upon a few men. Governor Johnson said: "I assume that Progressives will determine their course in due time. Whether personally I shall be a candidate for any office will be determined at the end of this year. The policy of Progressives will be determined by the great body of progressive—not by any one or two or three men."

Cutters Cannot Aid Imprisoned Vessels

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The United States revenue cutter service is powerless to render assistance to six schooners imprisoned in Arctic ice off season. The House Chamber of Commerce, which appeared for assistance for the imprisoned schooners, will be so informed today by the revenue cutter service. Officers here express the belief that the crews of the schooners are safe and can get plenty of provisions. In any event they can reach shore over the ice and make a trip southward on reindeer or dog sledges.

There was the usual picketing by strikers throughout the zone.

Veteran Carries Baiting as Peace Offering

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—President Wilson today dedicated as an insignia of peace an American flag dedicated to battlefield throughout the south by Major Alfred F. Judson, an ex-Confederate soldier of Los Angeles. During a recent tour in the interest of peace.

Major Judson, who has conducted patriotic exercises while the peace flag waved over Missionary Ridge, Chickamauga, Appomattox, Gettysburg and other battle grounds of the Civil war, planted the flag over Washington's tomb a few days ago.

As the flag was unfurled in the executive office by Major Judson and Lieutenant-General Young, representing the Grand Army of the Republic, the President joined the donors, expressing hope for the domestic and international peace.

DRUM REFUSES TO CONFIRM BORAX DEAL

R. C. Baker Said to Have Opinion on Big Properties.

Position of F. M. Smith Is Said Not to Be in Any Way Affected.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—In discussing the report as published this morning in a local paper, John S. Drum, president of the Savings Union Bank and Trust Company, and one of the trustees in control of Smith's affairs, said: "I do not wish either to deny or confirm the report. There is a good deal of truth in it, and yet its aspect is misleading. There has been some talk with Baker, but he has not indicated what he intends to do, if anything. But whatever decision he makes finally, Smith's commanding position in the borax industry will remain unaffected."

The story referred to was in effect that control of the world's supply of borax and the title of the "borax king" are to pass from California to London and from F. M. Smith to a syndicate of English capitalists headed by R. C. Baker, one of the directors of the Borax Consolidated Company of London.

Negotiations were said to have been practically completed for the sale of Smith's entire holdings of borax stock at a figure which will materially assist Smith in paying his debts, but which is far less than he had demanded.

When Baker left here, after conferences which had extended over several days, he carried with him the option for the purchase of every share of borax stock Smith held, and it is the belief of the trustees that the option will be executed promptly.

TRAINS GRIND MAN INTO SHREDS

Unidentified Unfortunate Run Over Many Times on Belt Railroad.

Gruesome Discovery Made by Watchman on San Francisco Front.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Run over repeatedly by trains of the Belt Railroad in the darkness early this morning, the remains of an unidentified man who may have chosen this horrible method of committing suicide, were found strewn along the tracks for more than a block at Filbert street and the Embarcadero. The body had been cut into pieces and the clothing ripped into shreds. Deputy Coroner Gavin was forced to gather up the bits of human form and place them in a basket. The discovery was made by George L. Roberts, a watchman, of 655 Vallejo street, who stated that he had seen the man was first run over, and undoubtedly the trains had passed a dozen times over the spot where he was.

Widney and Vivian Appear Hand in Hand

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Vivian Lyons and Robert J. Widney, of Los Angeles, who attended a party a month ago electrified the community, and whose escapades, including a shooting affray in the woman's apartment last December, have kept them in the limelight, appeared hand in hand at the district attorney's office today. They wanted the prosecutor's aid in obtaining some clothing which, it is claimed, is being held at the home of Mrs. Mary Vaughn, who took Mrs. Lyons under her wing after she was acquitted of an insanity charge preferred following her attempted suicide.

Assistant District Attorney Cotton has been assigned to see what he can do in the case.

Dr. Dissel, Inventor, Is Lost Overboard

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Dr. Rudolf Dissel, inventor of the Diesel Motor, believed to have been lost overboard from the Channel steamer Dresden on the voyage between Antwerp and Barcelona, embarked at Antwerp Monday night with a fellow director of his company, to attend a meeting in London.

Dr. Dissel suffered somewhat from insomnia, and some fear he fell overboard while strolling on deck after his friends retired.

TENDERLOIN IN 'REFORMED' MOOD

Not "Dead," Simply Reincarnated and Much Purified in Tone.

Saloon Keepers Hopeful of Equitably Divided Patronage of Habitues.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—The Barbary Coast is not dead. The dangerous practices, the opportunities for graft, the pitfalls for the unwary, the fiery alcohol which passed as whisky, the dens of iniquity and the seething sore spots of vice have gone, but the coast is still there. It is a reincarnated, rejuvenated, sugar-coated Barbary Coast, to be sure, but the music, and the dancing, and the bright lights, and the hurrying crowds, and even the staggering drunkards, are still to be seen. Liquor is still flowing, even though it is less potent by the parallel stream of grape juice. The dance is there, but is rendered less dangerous, less a means to an end, and less objectionable by the wave of reform which has made the streets more Pacific. The saloons are there, but the banishing of the girls from them, the absence of the flashing black eyes, and the rosy-painted lips, the departure of temptation, and the strict regulation by the police, have made them less deadly and more after the manner of bar rooms the country over.

BAR ROOMS DID BUSINESS

It was a comparatively quiet night despite the hurrying crowds which swept along, curiously entering one dance hall and passing by another saloon from Sansome street to Grant avenue. The bar rooms did a thriving business. The dance halls were less crowded. The girls had decked themselves as though at an evening party, but there was no liquor. The drinks were soft and mellow and their dispensers had a sincere. And yet the coast is still there and the proprietors of the Thalia, Hyperdrome, Spider Kelly, the Bear, the Midway, the Diana, and other rather attractively named palaces of joy are hopeful. They believe that men will go into a saloon and drink and then enter the next dance hall and tip the light fantastic. If they do, Pacific street will be but little different from the Terrible street known around the world. The possibility of knockout drops, the opportunity to "frisk" a man of his season's fishing money, the chances to get the entire bank roll for a bottle of beer are lessened, and thereby conditions have been improved.

It is estimated that 10,000 passed through the coast last night. It is thought that 2000 will be a crowd if they can get that many this evening. Chief of Police White has decreed that the dance halls can stay open until 1 and that the arrangement of their owners to sell soft drinks will not be interfered with and that only the drunk and disorderly ones will be arrested.

The coast is not dead. It is not sleeping. It might be called "converted," a term repeatedly used by the bands of mission workers who for decades have held their meetings on its curbs.

Necessary in Forests, Is Report.WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Summer vacation campers in the national forests are becoming so numerous that the question of providing suitable pasturage for their saddle and pack animals is beginning to give forest officials considerable trouble. While these officials are reluctant to impose any unnecessary restrictions upon the free use of pastures, they are beginning to feel that some form of regulation will be required unless the campers change their methods somewhat.The trouble is, says the forest service, that the campers concentrate in thecontiguous of tourists in keeping their stock from roaming away at night, and hold their stock in the fenced areas until the enclosures are entirely denuded of vegetation.In some instances, it is said, large parties occupy choice meadow lands and remain there until the feed is completely exhausted, thus depriving later visitors of opportunity to use the pastures.MORPHINE RING FOUND

CROP UNUSUALLY HEAVYSANTA ROSA, Oct. 1.—Every road is blocked in Sonoma county with wagons hauling grapes to the wineries. The wineries are running full blast all over the county.Sonoma is the greatest dry wine country in the world. Tens of thousands of tons of grapes will be manufactured into wine this season. The saccharine matter in the grapes in this county this year is considered fine. The prices have been at the top, ranging from $22.50 (contract earlier in the season) to $25. Hundreds of tons have been sold for $25, $26, $27 and $28. Some vineyards have yielded as high as ten and twelve tons per acre. The market is very quiet after the big rush and jump prices.STEAMER ON FIRE, IS as good. You will find them of great interest. The price of the one on the left is $39.00. Sold

Nerve in 5 MinutesA LOCAL BUSINESS MAN COMES TO THE office last Thursday to have a broken tooth dressed. The tooth was so much swollen that it was necessary to remove the nerve before any work could be done.
When I told the patient that I could take out the nerve in a few minutes, he did not believe me. "Why," he said, "I never heard of such a thing before. Other dentists always take a week or ten days to kill a nerve.""I know that," I replied. "But you must remember that my Tervesthesia method does away with the pain, so I don't have to kill the nerve before I can treat it. Just give me five minutes of your time and I'll have that nerve out.
You needn't be made to suffer the least bit."The patient finally agreed, because the tooth was so sensitive that he couldn't touch it with his tongue without intense pain, and he was anxious to get relief.
Within five minutes after applying Ter-vesthesia, the nerve was cut and I had started to prepare the tooth for crowning.
Just then the patient spoke up and said:
"When are you going to get down to that nerve?" He was astonished when I held the nerve before his eyes and told him that it was all over. "Doctor," he remarked, "it is perfectly harmless. I knew when you pulled that nerve out, but I must admit that I didn't feel a particle of pain. You certainly have made good, and I am going to let you do all my dental work in future."The above story is true in every detail, and I could cite hundreds of similar cases. If you wish, I will send you the names of some of my patrons so that you can verify the statements I make.Tervesthesia prevents pain in all dental operations. It makes no difference what kind of work you want done or how sensitive your teeth may be, there will be no suffering to endure when you come to me.
I don't employ cocaine, gas or dangerous drugs of any kind for the purpose of dead-ening the nerve feeling. Tervesthesia acts locally upon the spot where it is applied, and has no effect upon the rest of the body. It is perfectly harmless to everyone.Any person who has had work done by any tell you that I am a first-class dentist and that my prices are very reasonable. I charge no more for painless dentistry than others who are less skilled demand for the painful kind. Besides, all of my work carries an absolute guarantee of satisfaction.In addition to my regular dental practice I make a specialty of restoring lost teeth by the Rev. Alvin B. Smith without plates or bridge-work. If you have attempted to have your teeth restored by jaws you can rest the missing ones replaced by this method. People who are forced to wear plates should call and see samples of my Platoid metal plate—the lightest, strongest and most comfortable plate ever constructed.Let me give you a free examination and tell you what work is required and what it will cost. I'll gladly explain my methods without obligation on your part.
Consultation is free to all. Hours: 8:30 to 5:30; Sundays, 10 to 12.If you can't call, write today for my third time in a week the Sandring-were the scene of an exciting episode last night, when Leon Gutman came upon a burglar in his apartment. The intruder was flashing his light about the dining room, and had succeeded in scaring into hysteria the domestic.

Killing Hildman, who occupied an adjoining room, the burglar was much perturbed over the man's close presence, and was too frightened to cry out.
Gutman, however, saw the flash of the night light and attempted to capture the burglar. The latter made a dive for the window and dropped down the fire escape.On Monday James Stokesbury, the proprietor of the Sandringham, routed a burglar who was trying to enter his room, and last week he reported to the police that he had seen two men attack a woman, who was defended by two boys on the sidewalk opposite his window.FOUR-MASTED BARK

PROMPTLY DISAPPEARRelief Comes After Taking a Few Doses of Croxone.It is needless to suffer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can avoid it.Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and the only way to overcome it is to remove the cause.Croxone does this because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter it out and out of the system.Croxone is a truly remarkable medicine for rheumatism, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. You will find it differs from other remedies. There is nothing else just like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is positive relief possible to take it without results. Relief follows the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all misery and suffering will end.An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle and all druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to overcome the worst backache or urinary disorders.

CHICAGO LIVESIgnored Demand for $492,000
Causes Reduction Plant to Close.CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Mayor Harrison early this morning called a special meeting of the council for tonight to determine some method of disposing of the city's garbage. At midnight the plant of the Chicago Reduction Company, which has taken care of the refuse, was closed following the ignoring of the company's ultimatum, served yesterday upon city officials, that unless it was paid $492,000 in cash by 12 o'clock it would let the garbage rot in Chicago's alleys.Annoyed by the removal of 700 tons of garbage accumulating daily in Chicago, Irish aldermen asserted today that the city would be justified in expropriating its police power and seize the plant. A statement with the company would be made later, they said.As alternatives the city can dump the garbage in clay holes considered a health menacing process, or deodorize the refuse by sprinkling it with some solution.

DUMPS 1500 TONS.

Following the notice of the company
yesterday Commission of Public Works McGann requisitioned every available scow and garbage wagon and dumped 1500 tons of garbage on the docks at the company's plant before midnight. It is said it will take the plant two days to dispose of it.The company's act followed the failure of appraisers to agree upon the value of the plant. Mayor Harrison was hastily recalled from Canada where he was on a vacation. He held a meeting with his cabinet which lasted into the early hours of the morning when it was decided to call a council meeting.NEW TARIFF HITS representatives from California voted solidly against the conference report on the tariff bill in the House yesterday.

Democratic Representative of California and Kent (Independent) voted for the report. Every vote cast for the conference report was a vote against the business, manufacturing and farming interests of California, for the new tariff bill strikes California industries and products a harder blow than any other rate.Every vote against the report was a protest against the removal of protective duties for California industries and farming products.Representatives Kahn, Knowland, Bell, Stephens, Hayes and Curry voted against the report. Representatives Raker, Church, Kettner and Kent voted for the report.BIG LINER AGROUND,

Deliverance of Settlers
From Starvation.SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 1.—Commemorating the deliverance of early Mormon settlers from starvation, a monument to the great Salt Lake Sea-gull was unveiled in the Temple grounds here today. At the instant the lofty granite was uncovered, a hundred white gulls were released and soared around their bronze counterparts on its apex.President Joseph F. Smith and other Mormon Church dignitaries participated in the ceremonies.The monument is the work of 322
hon. Young, a grandson of Brigham Young. In his address President Smith recalled that "Rome had her sacred geese, but Salt Lake has her gulls."A grasshopper scourge which visited the pioneers in 1843 threatened to cause destruction to their crops when great flocks of gulls appeared and devoured them until the pests had vanished. Some of the pioneers whose crops were thus saved witnessed the"CASCARETS" FOR
